PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Brussels-based graduate focused on EU governance, digital rights and the impact of emerging technologies on the information space. Currently finishing a second Master's at KU Leuven with a focus on European law, after an MSc in International Relations from Amsterdam. I work at EAVI, a Brussels NGO on media integrity, where I handle finance/administration and contribute to policy research on democratic resilience, including analyzing the intersection of Large Language Models (LLMs) and disinformation. I am adept at tracking regulatory developments, drafting analytical pieces (memos, explainers), and synthesizing complex issues for diverse stakeholders. Highly self-directed and comfortable working in multicultural environments, I work across Italian, English, French and some Spanish.

WORK EXPERIENCE

EAVI — European Association for Viewers Interests Brussels | Mar 2026 – Present

Non-profit organisation on media literacy, digital rights and democratic resilience.

› Administration & Development Intern Jun 2026 – Present

- Oversee EAVI's financial administration under the Secretary General, managing budget monitoring, expenditure tracking, invoicing, VAT reporting and donor processes to ensure full regulatory and grant compliance.
- Contribute to policy research and advocacy on democratic resilience, media integrity and digital regulation, with a focus on foreign interference in the EU information space.
- Monitor EU policy and legislative developments to strengthen organisational expertise on the EU AI Act, the Digital Services Act (DSA), the Audiovisual Media Services Directive (AVMSD) and adjacent European tech governance instruments.
- Contribute to a European Commission-commissioned study on foreign influence across a set of 2024 national elections (including the United States, France, Finland and Georgia), with a focus on AI-enabled interference and its implications for electoral integrity.
- Draft internal and external correspondence and support onboarding of incoming staff.

› Project Development & Communication Intern Mar 2026 – May 2026

- Supported communications and outreach across EU-funded projects on media literacy and digital rights, translating complex tech policy topics into accessible content.
- Researched and drafted editorial materials on AI governance topics, specifically analysing the impact of Large Language Models (LLMs) on disinformation.
- Led end-to-end production of a short-form video series and managed stakeholder engagement through digital campaigns.
- Produced dissemination visuals in Canva and contributed to media strategy proposals.
